Koni Hospitality

Eliminates Light Leaks with Light Seal

Koni has been providing the hospitality industry a Total Soft Goods Solution for over 30 years. Draperies have been one of the cornerstones of Koni's quality and design since our inception. All Koni draperies come standard with the "Koni Light Seal" to eliminate light leakage, and improve the guest sleep experience.

You may have seen some hotels provide a "Drapery Clip" to eliminate light leaks. The guest is instructed to attach the clip where the panels meet prior to going to sleep. This clip is not required on any Koni draperies.

Koni's Light Seal includes Velcro attachments on the return of each panel that attaches to the wall and a center overlap where the panels come together.

Every window is measured to insure a custom fit for perfect draperies.

Koni draperies are measured and installed by company employees committed to customer satisfaction. It is this attention to detail, durability and quality that make Koni draperies your best value.
